Inclusivity in the African cup

The African cup was invented in 1957. This year the championship was played in Ivory Coast and the winner was Ivory Coast which triumphed in front of its public. The African cup's main objective is to bring all of Africa together and to unite the people. Soccer is very important for young people because it is a fun entertainment and also keeps them in good shape, for the luckiest it might even become a job. Ivory Coast qualified for the round of 16 thanks to Morocco, then it won in the final against Nigeria. Ivorians celebrated all around the world, mainly in France because many Ivorian immigrants live there.

There were many celebrations also in Italy, mainly in Naples.
